The Future Of Aged Care Design

1. How can modern aged care design incorporate sustainable practices to create environmentally friendly and energy-efficient facilities for the elderly?

- Enforce Compliance
- Facilitate Training and Support\
- Promote Transparency
- Providers (Aged Care Facilities).
- Upgrade Facilities
- Engage with Residents and Families
- Designers (Architects, Engineers, and Urban Planners
- Focus on Accessibility
- Sustainable and Future-Proof Design
- Incorporate Technology
- Government and Policymakers
- Increase Funding
- Promote Collaboration
- Support Research and Innovation

2. In what ways can technology be integrated into aged care design to enhance the quality of life and independence of seniors?

Via the use of training, resources, and support to care providers, staff, and families to improve care practices and resident well-being.

3. What role does community integration play in the future of aged care design, and how can facilities be designed to foster social connections among residents and the broader community?
It acts as a bridge between residents, providers, and policymakers to ensure that the voices of those affected by aged care services are heard in policy discussions.

4. How can aged care design address the diverse needs of an aging population, including considerations for cultural, physical, and cognitive differences?
By offering:
Home-Like Environments
Private and Semi-Private Spaces
Family-Friendly Spaces

(Competency codes: PC 25, PC 28, PC 34)